

World Religions and False Cults

Part 12 – Sharing Your Faith

Preparing to Be a Witness

With all of the different beliefs in our culture, opportunities for sharing the gospel are endless. Often times, however, we pass on such opportunities because we feel unprepared and intimidated by such conversations. The solution to this is in I Peter 3:15, where we are told to honor Christ by being prepared to defend our faith and the hope we have in Christ. The key is preparation!

Evangelistic Tips

Consider these helpful tips as you prepare to share Christ:

- Know what you believe: The purpose of this study was to become more knowledgeable about various beliefs in the world around us. But unless you are grounded on the truth of God's Word, you will always have trouble teaching and explaining it to others. Make personal Bible study a habit. Always continue to grow in your knowledge of the Word. Have the key Bible verses concerning Jesus Christ and the gospel marked in your Bible or memorized. (Col. 2:7)
- Be a good listener: Being interested in people's thoughts show you truly care about them. Learn to ask questions. Do not assume that just because someone identifies with a certain religion that they hold to those same beliefs themselves. Find out exactly what they personally believe, and then help point them to Christ. Do your best to answer their questions. If you cannot answer a question, tell them you will do some research and get back to them. (James 1:19)
- Represent Christ well: Be characterized by both grace and truth (John 1:14). Show love and respect, while also standing confidently in the truth. Do not attack their viewpoints, get off topic, or become distracted by miscellaneous details of their beliefs. Keep the conversation focused, emphasizing the authority of God's Word and the person and work of Jesus Christ. Explain the gospel clearly and simply. Be sure to use your testimony as an example of God's saving power.

Relying on God's Strength

As we actively look to share our faith, God will empower us and use us. But in so doing, remember that changing a person's heart is ultimately a work of God. For this reason, we must rely on Him through prayer, as He draws people to Himself (John 12:32).
